

Foreword

The present publication is the fruit of cooperation between the Klebelsberg Library of the University of Szeged and the Archives of the University of Szeged. The main source of the pictures featuring in the album was the photo archive of the University Collection of the Library where thousands of unique photographs can be found, especially from a university history perspective. We would like to express our gratitude for photographs from the stock of the Móra Ferenc Museum which complement our own collection. We also received some private donations that continuously enrich our own stock. We sincerely hope that while flipping through the pages of our album, people will be inspired to share their photographs of our university or the professors which could, then, become the subject of our following project. This would be essential in bridging those temporal gaps that have not been covered. It would also align well with the digitization projects our library is involved with, allowing for the original documents to shine under new light in our cutting-edge technical environment. Finally, it could also help our University Collection serve its purpose: to collect, to conserve and to share all documents that are related to the history of our university, making it possible for the values created within the walls of the Alma Mater to be inherited by future generations.

Szeged, September 15, 2014

The editors