

NAGY, SÁNDOR GYULA

Corvinus University of Budapest

Mesa: Political and Economic Challenges of Latin America

The invited speakers of the round-table discussion will be: Bernadett Lehoczki (Corvinus), Judit Ricz (Institute of World Economics, Centre for Economic and Regional Studies), Béla Soltész (Institute of Foreign Affairs and Trade and ELTE). The round-table discussion will focus on the recent economic, social and political development of Latin America. Social injustice and poverty after COVID, armed conflicts, role of institutions, election results, Pink Tide 2.0, disruptions of global value chains, regional integrations.

Sándor Gyula Nagy is a full professor of political economy of the Corvinus University of Budapest, at the Department of World Economy. His main fields of research are Latin-America and Spain, and furthermore, the process of global, regional and European integration. He is the co-author and author of several books, book chapters and academic papers written in Hungarian, English and Spanish. He is co-president of the Latin-America Subcommittee of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences IX. Section of Economics and Law.